

Annual Hemp Commercial Production Application, 2024

Agricultural and Environmental Services Division

Updated December 21 2023

Dear Annual Hemp Commercial Production License Applicant:

This application is directed at those entities planting an annual hemp crop.

Under a single annual hemp license, there is no acreage limit for a single contiguous growing area. For the purposes of this license, contiguous growing areas are defined as touching along a boundary or at a point. Boundaries such as private roads and irrigation ditches do not divide a contiguous growing area. Growing areas divided by public roads and property owned by entities other than applicant would be considered non-contiguous. Applicants may register multiple growing areas (non-contiguous fields) on a single license under the following restrictions: all growing areas are within a 2.5 mile radius, all growing areas shall be planted within a three week period, and total number of acres under a single application is less than 10.

If you are planning on maintaining viable hemp plants throughout the year (e.g. mother plants, breeding purposes, seed production) other licenses that may be required include the following:

- Continuous Hemp Commercial Production License: Year-round greenhouse production.
- Nursery Plant License: Required by state law for any business selling live plants, including hemp clones.

License applications, including nursery, can be found at nmdeptag.nmsu.edu. Questions regarding hemp applications, nursery applications, and licenses can be addressed at (575) 646-3207. After your application has been approved, New Mexico Department of Agriculture will mail your Annual Commercial Production Hemp License to the physical address provided. Understand that the license is proof that you have registered with the state as a hemp producer with the intent of producing hemp.

IMPLEMENTATION OF USDA HEMP RULES

As required by the 2018 Farm Bill, the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) developed the U.S. Domestic Hemp Production Program to provide regulatory oversight of the cultivation of hemp in the United States. The program includes provisions for the USDA to approve plans submitted by states and Indian tribes for the domestic production of hemp and establishes a federal plan for producers in states or territories of Indian tribes that do not have their own USDA-approved plan and the production of hemp is legal. As of January 1, 2022, New Mexico will be operating under a USDA-approved state plan administered by NMDA.

BACKGROUND CHECK

A criminal background check is required to process your application. Although you may have submitted one for the 2023 growing season, an updated background check is necessary for 2024. Hemp commercial production licenses cannot be issued to individuals with felony convictions related to controlled substances within the last ten (10) years. NMDA will conduct a national background check with applicants required to obtain state background records from the Department of Public Safety. The state background report/stamp from the Department of Public Safety must be included with your Annual Hemp Commercial Production application. For your convenience, the Department of Public Safety's Records Request form is located at the end of this application. Reports or a no-records stamp can be obtained from the Department of Public Safety either in person (Santa Fe) or through the mail with your notarized signature. A $15.00 charge is required by the Department of Public Safety. Applicants are required to comply with New Mexico's Child Support Enforcement Act. Failure to meet child support obligations will result in the denial or revocation of a hemp commercial production license.

If you have questions or comments, feel free to call us at (575) 646-3207.

Respectfully,

Brad Lewis
Division Director
